

Human Rights Fellowship Application

The International Human Rights Fellowship is available to one or more SIU Law students annually who plan to spend the summer working for a nonprofit organization on issues of international human rights. Preference will be given to students who plan to work for a nonprofit human rights organization in another country; however, consideration will also be given to students who work for a nonprofit organization in the United States on issues relating to international human rights. The funds from the Fellowship may be used to support the students' travel and living expenses. Students may not earn money or credit while receiving the Fellowship. The amount of the award will vary depending on the availability of funds and the needs of the student applicants. Award recipients must have a minimum GPA of 2.3.
