- (f) Voluntary Withdrawal from the Law School [amended 3/31/23]

Only students who meet the following requirements may withdraw voluntarily from all courses at the School of Law and return without having to reapply for admission to the School of Law. Voluntary withdrawal is also subject to all University requirements and deadlines, as well as Rule III.5(f)(iv) (Deadline for Program Changes).

(i) Students Who Have Not Yet Completed Two Full Semesters

- (A) General Rule. A student who has not yet completed two full semesters may voluntarily withdraw from the School of Law and may return without petition if the student does so within 15 months following the date of withdrawal and only if the student hasn't already withdrawn and returned from the previous academic year for any reason. If more than 15 months have elapsed since the student's withdrawal, the student may return only by petitioning the Dean, which petition shall be freely granted if justice so requires. A student can exercise this right of withdrawal and return only once during the student's time at the School of Law.
- (B) Completion of All First-Year Courses Required. A student who voluntarily withdraws from the Law School before completion of two full semesters must, upon readmission, complete all required first-year courses before being permitted to take upper-level courses. If a first-year course is subsequently removed from the catalog or no longer offered in the same format, the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs and Curricular Development will designate a course, or combination of courses, that the student must take to meet the degree requirement. [amended 5/17/21; 11/18/22]
- (C) Retaking First-Year Courses after Withdrawal. If a student withdraws from the Law School prior to completing two full semesters and has been assigned a final grade in any first year course, or all assignments in the course have been completed but a final grade has not been assigned, the student may not, upon readmission, re-take any such course prior to completing two full semesters.

(ii) Students Who Have Completed at Least Two Full Semesters

- (A) Students in Good Standing. A student who has completed at least two full semesters and who is in good standing at the time of withdrawal may voluntarily withdraw from the School of Law and may return without petition if the student does so within 15 months following the date of withdrawal. If more than 15 months have elapsed since the student's withdrawal, the student may return only by petitioning the Dean, which petition shall be freely granted if justice so requires.

- (B) Students on Academic Probation at Time of Withdrawal. A student who has completed at least two full semesters and who is on academic probation under either Rule III.2(b) or III.2(d) at the time of withdrawal may voluntarily withdraw from the School of Law and may return without petition if the student does so within 15 months following the date of withdrawal. If more than 15 months have elapsed since the student's withdrawal, the student may return only by petitioning the Dean, which petition shall be freely granted if justice so requires. Any student who is on academic probation at the time such student voluntarily withdraws must, upon readmission, continue to satisfy the conditions of probation to which the student was subject prior to withdrawal.
- (f) Students Matriculating at the School of Law Before August 1, 2010. For all students who matriculated at the School of Law before August 1, 2010, academic good standing, eligibility to continue study at the School of Law, graduation eligibility, withdrawal, and any other related matters not addressed by these Rules shall be determined under the Rules of the Southern Illinois University School of Law for Academic Year 2009–10 last amended February 16, 2010.
