Health Law & Bioethics, Johnson, et al (2009).

➤ Other Required Materials

Additional materials that students are responsible for will be posted on the course TWEN page from time to time. All students are expected to regularly check the TWEN page for additional assignments, additional reading material, and announcements.

Course Description and Objectives:

Students who successfully complete this course will:

- Understand the fundamental ethical/legal considerations in the health care environment, including those related to reproduction and birth, organ transplantation, the determination of death, life and death decisions, medically assisted dying, regulation of research, and population and public health law.
- Appreciate the policy issues underlying basic ethical questions that arise in the health care environment.
- Be able to identify and analyze ethical/legal problems arising in the health care environment using the IRAC methodology.

Course Outline:

- An outline of dates and assignments for the course can be found beginning on page 3 of this Syllabus. This outline, while generally accurate, is subject to change as circumstances may require. The official outline of dates and assignments will be found on the TWEN Page for the course.
- The readings for the class will be substantial, but they are necessary in order to promote analysis and discussion.
- We plan to meet with each student individually at the beginning of the semester to have a brief conversation about course expectations, both yours and ours.

Grading

➤ Midterm Examination – 20% – Due October 12, 2022

The midterm exam is a three (3) page, take-home written analysis of a hypothetical bioethical problem / issue of the student's choice. Eighty percent (80%) of the mid-term grade will be based on subject-matter knowledge, the ability to analyze the problem, and apply the law to the problem presented. The remaining twenty percent (20%) will be based on grammar, punctuation, and other style elements. The mid-term assignment will constitute 20% of the final grade. The mid-term exam must be turned in electronically to Professors Davidson and Ryan not later than 4:00 p.m. on October 12, 2022.

➤ Final Examination – 80% – Due by the regularly scheduled final exam period for this class, established by the Associate Dean and the Registrar.

The final exam will be a 12-page scholarly paper that is an original work on a preapproved topic, carefully edited and properly referenced. The exam will be graded solely on demonstrated knowledge, analysis, and application of the relevant legal principles and public policies underpinning ethical issues in health care. It will account for 80% of the class grade.

Attendance

- This course meets on Wednesdays from 4 to 6:30 p.m. Class starts promptly at 4, so please be on time and ready to go. As specified in the Rules of the Southern Illinois University School of Law, “[r]egular attendance to class meetings in all courses is expected and required of all students.... Attendance will be taken in class and attendance records will be kept. Violation of this rule shall subject the student to penalties....” Since ours is a small class, roll will be taken at the beginning of each class.
- Students may have no more than a maximum of three (3) unexcused absences. Students with more than three (3) absences will be referred to the Associate Dean and will be given the lowest possible grade – a failing grade – for the course.
- In addition, students will be called on in class and are expected to be prepared. Being “prepared” means being ready and able to intelligently discuss all facets of the assigned materials. Students found to be unprepared by the Professors will be marked absent for the day. If for some good, verifiable reason (in the view of the instructors) you are unprepared for class, please let both of us know by 2 p.m. the day of class. You may still be counted as absent, depending on your excuse, but you will not be called on and humiliated. Do not abuse this privilege. The penalty for abuse is to take required, public dance lessons from Professor Brittingham.
- Students may NOT “Note Out” of this class.

Faculty Availability Outside of Class

- Professors Ryan and Davidson: Professors Ryan and Davidson are available by email and telephone for brief questions or to make in-person appointments to discuss matters related to the class.
