Seminar: Slavery, Race and Law in Southern Illinois
Fall, 2024

Class sessions:
Fridays, 9:30am – noon
Room 164

Teacher: Sheila Simon
Office: room 228, plus downstairs in the administrative suite
Email: ssimon@siu.edu
Cell phone 618 967-2062
Secretary: Cynthia Heisner

Textbook: There is no required textbook for this class.

What you can expect to learn: In this seminar we will have the chance to look at Southern Illinois law and history on slavery and race. These topics are rarely studied, partly because we are not in a major population center and partly because the topics are uncomfortable. As lawyers we should understand the law, but it’s sure hard to do that without an understanding of where we have been. In this seminar you will get to choose your area of research, develop your expertise, write to deepen your understanding, choose a way to share what you have learned, and, I hope, have an impact.

This is a seminar, which is an amazing opportunity for us to work together. I’ll provide the structure and the basics, and you get to choose the direction for your research, writing, and presentations to the class. Bottom line -- you will get to dig into an area of law that is interesting to you, polish your research and writing skills, and try to take it outside of school and have an impact. Yessss!

Attendance: Be here – it’s a huge part of what will make this class work. Class participation will be a part of your grade, so that’s another good reason to come to class. We will be going to some of the places we will be studying. Classes are on Friday mornings, although we will have some class days off to give you time for research, writing, and conferences.

Workload expectations: You might not have thought about how much work you will put into each class, but the American Bar Association has! The American Bar Association standards for accrediting law schools contain a formula for calculating the amount of work that constitutes one credit hour. According to ABA Standard 310(b)(1), “a “credit hour” is an amount of work that reasonably approximates: (1) not less than one hour of classroom or direct faculty instruction and two hours of out-of-class student work per week for fifteen weeks, or the equivalent amount of work over a different amount of time.” This is a three credit-hour class, meaning we will spend our Friday mornings together most weeks. The rules of the school of law allow us to forego several class sessions to allow you more time for research, writing, and conferences. Overall, your reading, research, writing and class sessions should take an average of nine hours each week.

Grades: Your grade will be based on the following factors:
- Class participation: 20 percent
- Outline of the first paper: 10 percent
- First paper: 30 percent
- First draft of the second product: 10 percent
- Final draft of second product: 30 percent

Assignments must be submitted by D2L or in person directly to me. No late submissions will receive credit unless permission has been granted in advance.

Writing Targets: Students in senior seminars at the School of Law are required to produce a paper or papers totaling 7500 words, which is about 31 pages, double spaced. In our class the large paper will be due early in the semester (you will hate me for this, but it will work). That will allow you time to produce a second work which is targeted for publication in some fashion. We’ll talk in class about publications that are good targets for your work.

D2L: Keep posted on news, assignments, any changes in the syllabus and other good stuff through D2L.

Office hours: Stop by. This semester it may be harder to catch me, so if I’m not free when you stop by, make an appointment. We can meet in my office, online, or by phone, whatever works for you. My property class is on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 3, so those times are out for sure.

Recording class sessions: All class sessions held here at the law school will be recorded and posted. My experience with the recordings is that they work most of the time but there’s no guarantee. If you have to miss something that you really want to benefit from, have a classmate take notes.

Final exam: No final exam for this class. Party on!

Stress! What stress? The University and the School of Law recognize that there are lots of potential stressors in your life. Here is some information on Saluki Cares, a campus-wide effort to be there to support you: The purpose of Saluki Cares is to develop, facilitate and coordinate a university-wide program of care and support for students in any type of distress—physical, emotional, financial, or personal. By working closely with faculty, staff, students, and their families, SIU will continue to display a culture of care and demonstrate to our students and their families that they are an important part of the community. For Information on Saluki Cares: (618) 453-2461, or siucares@siu.edu, https://salukicares.siu.edu/ or get in touch with me.
Disabilities and accommodations: I want everyone in this class to succeed. If a disability is challenging you, here is some information about how to seek accommodations: SIU Carbondale is committed to providing an inclusive and accessible experience for all students with disabilities. Disability Support Services coordinates the implementation of accommodations. If you think you may be eligible for accommodations but have not yet obtained approval, please contact DSS immediately at 618-453-5738 or disabilityservices.siu.edu. You may request accommodations at any time, but timely requests help to ensure accommodations are in place when needed. Accommodations and services are determined through an interactive process with students and may involve consideration of specific course design and learning objectives in consultation with faculty. Upon completion of a Disability Accommodation Agreement with DSS, students should bring the agreements for each course to the School of Law Registrar’s Office to ensure the School of Law provides the proper classroom and examination accommodations.

COVID-19. SIUC’s policy on face masks and social distancing is consistent with the guidance from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and the Illinois Department of Public Health. For up-to-date information, students, faculty, and staff should visit SIUC’s COVID website (https://siu.edu/coronavirus), which includes the Saluki Safety Plan. People can also send email to pandemicinfor@siu.edu.

Tornado? Flood? We ask that you become familiar with Emergency Preparedness @ SIU. Emergency response information is available on posters in buildings on campus, on the Emergency Preparedness @ SIU website, and through text and email alerts. To register for alerts, visit http://emergency.siu.edu/.

Class schedule:
This is the schedule of when we will meet, have presentations, turn in outlines and papers. Several of our classes will be visits to locations outside of the law school. Any changes to the schedule will be posted to D2L.

August 23: introduction to class, discussion of possible research topics. The last hour of class with Kimberly France, SIU law grad and author of Black Settlements in Southern Illinois.

August 30: First part of class on topics. Bring three ideas you are considering for your big paper. Then we’ll take a break to move over to Morris Library for the second part of class. Moira Fiscus, of Morris Library, will give us an introduction to historical research.

September 6: field trip to Cairo to meet with author and historian Darrel Dexter
Meet at the Cairo Public Library, 1609 Washington, Ave, Cairo, at 10:00
September 13: conferences on developing topic and outline

September 20: Field trip to Equality, meet with Mark York and Todd Carr, local historians
Meet at the Ohio River Visitor Center, 120 W. Lane, Equality, at 10:30am
Outline of paper due at 5pm today.

September 27: class time will be used for scheduled and drop-by conferences on research and writing

October 4: presentations on first paper

October 11: no class and I’ll be out of town this week

October 18: Presentations of first paper, continued

October 25: no class today. I’ll be out of town this Thursday and Friday, but available earlier in the week for questions of your drafts.
Papers due by 5pm today.

November 1: field trip to General John A. Logan Museum, 1613 Edith Street, Murphysboro, 10:00am

November 8: conferences, draft of second work product due today at 5pm.

November 15: presentations of second work product

November 22: last day of class presentations of second work product
Second work product due at 5pm today.