Introduction: This semester, along with continuing our work on strategies for success in law school, we will begin preparing for the practice of law by examining our responsibilities within the legal system to ourselves and others

Course Learning Objectives:

- ✓ Identify and nurture productive academic and professional behaviors to succeed in law school and law practice in light of the first-year experience.
- ✓ Understand the significance of service to clients and protecting the rule of law in a legal professional's activities.
- ✓ Nurture a sense of identity as a legal professional with healthy reference to other identities and competing priorities in your public and private life.
- ✓ Appreciate the importance of the professional skills of cross-cultural lawyering to improve client representation and professional interaction skills.
- ✓ Plan how you will hone your intellectual and professional capacities to become a more effective student and developing lawyer.
- ✓ Take initial steps to plan your entry to the legal profession.

Course Materials:

- ✓ Materials as posted on D2L or handed out in class.

Class Policies:

Student courtesy policy: The classroom is a shared space where consideration and compassion for others are not negotiable.

Attendance Policy

Attendance is expected. You should not plan on taking any absences in this class unless you have an unforeseen or unavoidable conflict, such as illness. As such, attendance is mandatory (including any make-up classes related to recognized school holidays) and you may miss no more than one (1) class during the semester. In extraordinary situations, a student may make up a missed class, so that the absence will not be counted against the total absences permitted; this determination will be addressed at my sole discretion on a case-by-case basis. Those exceeding the maximum number of absences will be subject to the ramifications described in the Law School's attendance policy. See School of Law Rules III.5 (f)-(g).

To be marked present for class, you must (1) complete the assigned readings, quizzes and exercises for that day by the start of class; (2) participate in the class discussion, and (3) participate in any in class polls. If you miss more than five minutes of class for any reason (other than an approved accommodation), you will be counted as absent. Repeated tardiness will also result in being marked absent. If you must miss more than five minutes of class, you may still come to class provided that you do not cause an interruption.

Policy for Missed or Late Work & Class Preparation

Due dates for every assignment are provided on the course syllabus and course schedule (and posted in D2L). Law is all about deadlines. Missing deadlines, being unprepared for class, or missing meetings can have dire consequences for your clients and for you (malpractice, loss of respect from the court, discipline from the bar association.) Late work will not be accepted unless prior approval is given. That approval will only be granted in extreme circumstances that are clearly beyond your control. Preparation for class means reading the assigned readings & reviewing all information required for that week.

Law School Honor Code and University Code of Conduct. Both the Honor Code and the Code of Conduct apply and are in effect in this class. Read both documents carefully and make sure you comply with both at all times. Submitting plagiarized work or any other form of work not your own, regardless of a student's purpose or intent, is potentially subject to serious sanctions as are other academic, honor code, and conduct code offenses. Do not consult others on the final work product you turn in. If you have any questions regarding the Honor Code, Code of Conduct or either's application, consult me. The following guidance may also be helpful:

- ✓ What you may do: You may discuss writing and charting assignments with other students, which includes discussing issues, research, and analysis. You may consult teaching assistants, librarians, and me for questions about assignments. You may sometimes consult teaching assistants and Taylor Mattis Fellows about other matters, and you may always ask me any questions you may have.
- ❖ What you may not do: You may not turn in work that is not your own. You may not collaborate during the charting or writing process, and you may not read the written work of another student or permit another student to read your written work. The written product must be your own work; you may not copy another student's work and hand it in as your own. You may not seek assistance on any written assignment from anyone except me or a teaching assistant, and teaching assistants are neither obligated nor always permitted to provide assistance. You may not use Artificial Intelligence to produce your written work.

Taylor Mattis Fellows.

In Mastering Legal Education, you will be a member of a “Study Group” and one of the Taylor Mattis Fellows will lead your group. Your group and your Fellow will meet during several times during the term to discuss study strategies, examination preparation, legal reasoning methods, peer-to-peer advising issues, and other matters.

You must attend all scheduled “Study Group” meetings or otherwise assigned individual meetings with a Taylor Mattis Fellow during the term. The Fellows will announce the Study Group schedule after the term begins. The Fellows and I will also make sure you know the individual meeting requirement; you must meet this requirement as well.

Your Taylor Mattis Fellow will be glad to meet with your Study Group at other times and any student individually. If you must miss a Study Group meeting, you must file a motion to extend time to make the meeting and then schedule to make it up with your Taylor Mattis Fellow. Many students will attend individual meetings with Taylor Mattis Fellows distinct from this requirement.
